DEDICATION

To Professor Edgar H. Stillwell, Head of the Social Science Department and

Associate Professor Frank H. Brown, Member of the Science Department

We Affectionately Dedicate this 1947 Catamount

Because they are, each in his own way, part and parcel of the cultural heritage of Western Carolina Teachers College. Their combined services to education, most of it in our beloved Alma Mater, represent a span of years little short of a century. However, the calendar is only a weak, objective measurement of their contribution. The subjective measurement of the services of Stillwell and Brown is written in the affections and characters of thousands of students. We love them, not only because of their skill and understanding as classroom teachers, but because of their radiant personalities and because their high ideals have ever been a tonic to our spirits.

T H E

THE ALMA MATER

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater, faithful, kind, and true;
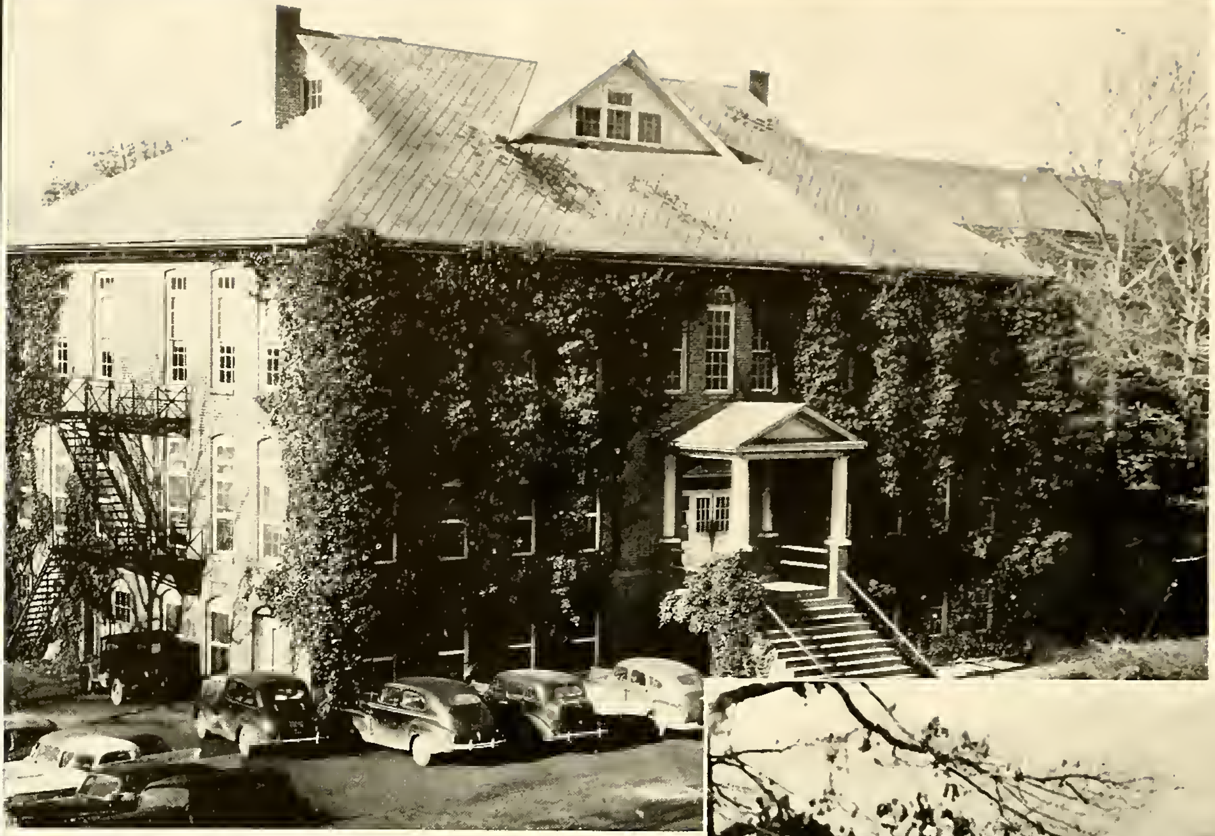
Every son and every daughter
 offer praise to you.

Hail to the dearest spot of all!
Hail to Cullowhee!
Light and life and fond devotion,
All we owe to thee.

COLLEGE

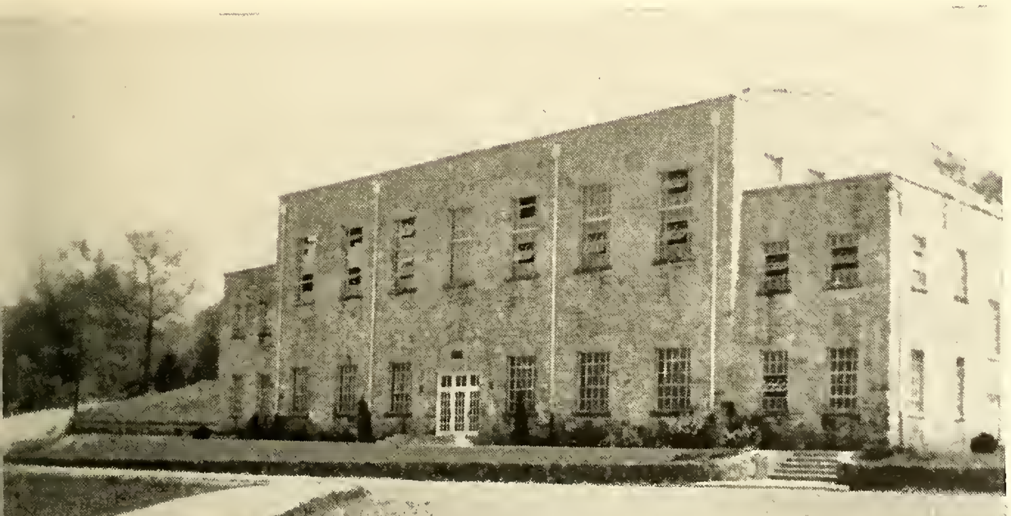


"OLD" JOYNER—Vintage of 1913; fashioned from bricks made by hand-press. In this venerable building we undergo registration, talk over our problems with the president, dean, or bursar, and visit the library upstairs. The post-office and soda shop on the basement floor are no less popular spots.

GRAHAM INFIRMARY—Named in honor of Dr. Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina, this infirmary is much appreciated by the entire college community. Here we are cared for when we're "under the weather."

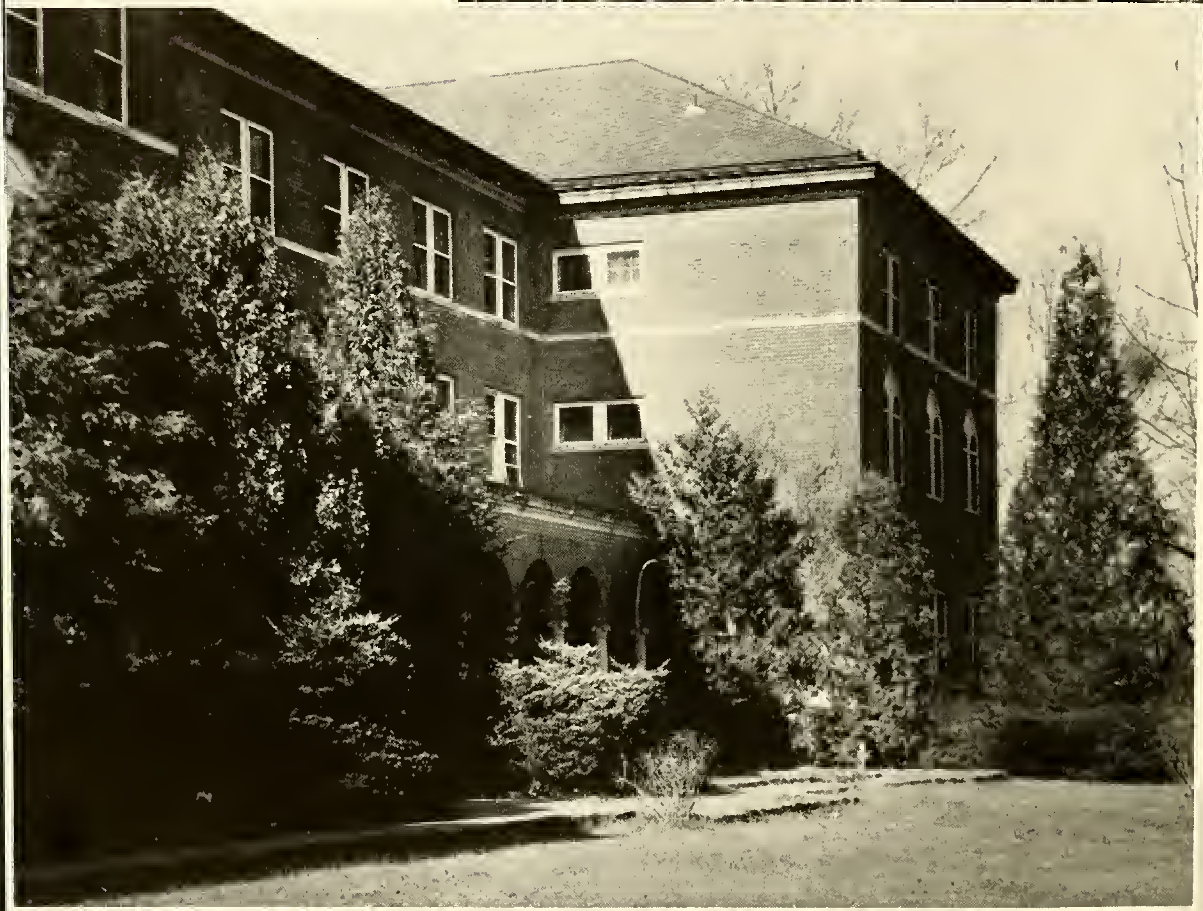
STUDENT UNION BUILDING—The "hub" of student activities. The newspaper and annual are published here. Club meetings, dancing, and miscellaneous socials highlight this building's functions.

The Rock Wall—A tradition at Cullowhee. Here everyone sits at some time to talk over the news of the day.



Breese Gymnasium – Constructed of North Carolina gneiss, this is one of the finest and most up-to-date buildings on the campus. A large swimming pool and basketball courts are found in this structure.

Davies Hall—Home of the resident faculty members.



Moore Hall—Residence of all women students and location of the college dining hall. We couldn't do without Moore!

McKee Training School—Here the practice teachers have a human laboratory in which they learn the techniques requisite to good teaching.

HOEY AUDITORIUM—Named in honor of former Governor Clyde R. Hoey, this building is the scene of lyceum numbers, dramatics productions, and similar entertainment features.

FACULTY ROW—Perched on a high hill overlooking the college campus, the faculty plans for our future.

The Veterans' Village—Newest addition to the campus, "Boodleville" is the home of some sixty or more veterans and their families. Owned by the federal government, these prefabricated houses have been lent to the college.

OUR PRESIDENT AND FOUNDER
Dr. H. T. Hunter and Professor Robert Lee Madison

1947 at Western Carolina

It is a particularly difficult task to portray adequately the ideas and experiences of a year. This depiction inevitably becomes an elusive association of incidents, beliefs, and hopes which mean something different to each student.

1947 has been an exceptional year. It marks the beginning of a new spirit as well as a new age at Western Carolina Teachers College. The forward surge of the College in the national community has been felt by everyone. New buildings have been planned. Curriculum changes and prominent faculty additions have given greater stimulation to thought and study.

1947 was the year when we felt fully the changes that peace time has brought about. For the first time in our history, men students outnumbered the women. Over 70% of the enrollment was men. We believe that all the students have honored in the fullest measure Dr. Hunter's plea made at the year's beginning: "I shall depend upon you to make your contribution to wholesome, creative living on the campus of a small college dedicated to a democratic way of life, and resolved to live up to the implications of such a philosophy."

In the peace that has come we have not seen a carefree college year. As wars always highlight failures and reveal ignorance, the past war has made us conscious that we must be aware of today's needs. We must gain from past experience and learn by making decisions.

We have a youthful faith that there are some things in life worth living and working for, and these give hope and enthusiasm to our ideals.

We believe that in the last analysis this better world is You and I!

CLASS OF '47

A conglomerate—
Made of students bearing traces
Of East and West, of North and South
Molded into a class of Aspirants
Each like the other, yet each different;
Led by our own leaders . . .
Guided by the faculty . . .
Taught, advised,
Counciled.

Time out—
For some to fight; for some to die;
Time to bring a part of England,
Of France, of Germany, and Salerno;
A trace of the Orient, of Okinawa,
and Leyte;
Back to the campus to color and to glorify those who stayed,
Making it a new class,
Mixed, integrated,
A conglomerate.

Cullowhee—
To You we brought ourselves
We have replaced a part of us with what you gave;
We have left a part of us with you.
Take what we have contributed,
And as we leave, combine it with
What others will bring,
To fashion the soul
Of Cullowhee.

Catamount's Tournament Record

A cloud of gloom hung over the Catamount's dressing room in the High Point College field house. They had just dropped the North State Conference championship by a 53-51 verdict to Elon's Christians in the finals of the North State tournament. It was a tough game to lose because the winner would go to the National Intercollegiate Basketball Association Tournament in Kansas City.

The tournament at High Point had been a knock-down, drag-out affair all the way. Top seeded Appalachian was eliminated from the race by Lenoir-Rhyne who finished the regular season in the cellar bracket. Then second place High Point fell before Guilford's seventh place club. Elon rolled over Atlantic Christian, and the Catamounts trounced Catawba, 49-38. The first day of the tournament was finished.

In the semi-finals the next night, the Catamounts fought their way to the finals by eliminating Guilford, 53-40. Elon downed Lenoir-Rhyne and all was set for the big game.

Everyone knew the Catamounts had a better club than their season's record of 13 victories and 13 defeats showed. And they proved it in the finals. The Cats rolled up a 17-3 lead in the opening minutes, and with "Ike" Olson leading the way they held a 27-17 margin at halftime.

But Elon came back in the second half and gained steadily on the Cats until the game was "nip and tuck." During the last two minutes the score was knotted twice. Elon went ahead, 50-48, on Ronnie Cates' goal with one minute and forty seconds remaining. Olson then evened the count at 50-all.

With 55 seconds remaining, Johnny Clayton's free throw put Elon out front again, but Bob McGinn quickly matched it to tie the score at 51-51. Three seconds before the final whistle Edward Drew, Elon forward, tipped in the game winning goal.

However, the Catamounts were not to be discouraged. It was discovered that Elon could not accept the invitation to the NIBA tournament in Kansas City; so, since the Cats were runners-up to Elon, they were invited. Coach Marion MacDonald eagerly accepted, and the Catamounts were made one of the 32 entries in the big tourney.

They were paired with Canterbury College of Danville, Indiana, and their game was set for 3 p.m. Tuesday, March 11.

The game was a battle between centers, Jim Gudger of the Catamounts and six-foot, nine-inch Springer of Canterbury. Canterbury built up a 32-26 lead by half-time and increased it to 44-33 in the opening minutes of the last half. The Cats then staged a come-back led by Gudger and Olson and pulled up dangerously close to their opponents. However, they could not overwhelm the lead, which was continuously being pushed up by Springer and Alltop, Canterbury's rugged little guard, and were trailing 68-55 when the final whistle blew. Gudger collected 24 points in the game to run his total up to 445 for the season, only eight behind Ronnie Cates of Elon who led the North State Conference with 453. Springer bucketed 25, Alltop 19, Olson 10, and Bob Tate of the Catamounts 9.

Clair Olson, left, a senior and a veteran from Luray, Kansas. He captained the Cats and is commended for his aggressiveness and fine team play.

Credit goes to Marion G. MacDonald, Catamount coach, for developing a fine team that brings pride to the heart of every Catamount supporter in the land.

EDGAR HERMAN STILLWELL
1881-1947

IN MEMORIAM

PROFESSOR E. H. STILLWELL

In the dawning of the morning
Of a January day,
A dear teacher, husband, father,
On his sick bed, dying, lay.
Loved ones sobbing lingered near him
As his spirit took its flight;
He his course had fully finished;
He had fought a goodly fight.
Many a message, sorrow-laden,
Far and near was quickly spread,
Telling that this noted teacher,
Unexcelled, long loved, was dead.

Unsurpassed as enthusiast,
He informed and edified;
And dramatic, too, in action
He impressed the truth applied.
He allured to Christ-like living
By example and by word,
Pointing out the way to heaven
As each mind and heart he stirred.
Much we've prized him, much we've praised him;
Ne'er through life we'll see his face.
Much we love him, much we'll miss him,
For there's none can fill his place!

May we not by faith imagine
What took place in Paradise
On that mournful winter morning
When his soul was posed to rise?
Lo, a bevy of bright angels
Coming through the portals fair
To the strains of mystic music
As they moved to earth from there.
In the forefront of the seraphs
There are two, observed afar,
And the two are former mortals,
And we wonder who they are.

Now their faces seem familiar
They can surely be no other
Than his own devoted parents,
Faithful father, precious mother,
Look! above Earth's sin and sadness,
Soars a soul from flesh set free.
'Tis our loved one speeding upward,
With fond parents soon to be!
Now the music grows triumphant
As the convoy skyward flies.
Father, mother, son together,
Angels 'round them! Paradise!
